XY and More – Laurent Vulliet, 2021

What a nice day, looking at a rainbow
10/11, shady lights of autumn
Crowd of people colored and playful on the go
Bright as a queen, moving the way winds blow
High on the heels quite easy to spot'em
Showing his pride, revealed under the sun, here we go:

X, Y and more, many letters
In the alphabet
Shaping words. Get-togethers
X, Y and more. Feeling right
Making sense
Whatever it takes, day and night

Dropping her joint, decided and released
Inside and out, no closet no lockdown
Stands up and say: I get to go meet her and feast!

Why giving up, attracted on both sides?
Life comes and goes, said he while falling down
Being oneself, about to fly away

X, Y and more, many letters
In the alphabet
Shaping words. Get-togethers
X, Y and more. Feeling right
Making sense
Whatever it takes, day and night

Out for a journey,
Writing in the margins
Turning a page. From a to z

Come closer
I'll tell you:
Like Rev. King,
I have a dream!

X, Y and more, many letters
In the alphabet
Shaping words. Get-togethers
X, Y and more. Feeling right
Making sense
Whatever it takes, day and night
